Navy Man Stationed Every Wednesday

A representative from the U. S. Navy Recruiting Station in Boston Park Ave. Forum to Give is stationed at the local post office on Court street. Due to the demands of the men of the town seeking information concerning the advantages of the Navy as a career and a place to learn a trade, Naval Officials have decided to station a representative at the post office every Wednesday morning, so that any young man of the town who is interested in making a future for himself in the Navy will be able to get whatever information that he may desire. A high school education is not necessary for enlistment in the naval service.

New Year_New Leaf_ Why Not New Car?

THE slate's clean, the past is past, you're making a new beginning on a new year you hope will be happier and finer and richer - how about doing the job up right?

You spot the fun possibilities in this brilliant and buoyant Buick just by watching it flash by, but have you been in to try it?

Do you know what it's like first hand, we mean - to have a hundred-plus Dynaflash horsepower waiting your treadlefoot's nudge? Have you sampled the thrill in such an engine micropoise-balanced to smoothness a wrist watch can't hope to equal?

Today's winter-roughened roads give you swell chance to try out BuiCoil Springing's gentle ride - raw weather emphasizes the stout snugness of Unisteel Bodies by Fisher and the convenience of the Flash-Way Direction Signal.

Now's when you most need firm new rubber - sure, soft, tiptoe brakes - Buick's automatic choke - stout, taut frames and rugged bodies, and why wait for spring to buy beauty that gives your spirits a lift?

Then too, driving speeds are naturally lower now and driving distances shorter, making this the best time of all to get a car properly started in life.

So figure it out! It's a new year. You've turned a new leaf. Ask your Buick dealer what a new Buick will cost you now - and let every month of 1940 contribute to a happy new year!

Buick Sales Break

Fourth quarter sales of Buick motor cars will shatter all records and bring the volume for the year, 1939, to more than 224,000 units, the best annual total in more than 10 years, it was announced recently by W. F. Hufstader, general sales

Based on preliminary reports of trouble and inconvenience of going the final December period, fourth quarter Buick sales are placed at 83,036 units compared with 59,603 in the last 1938 quarter for a gain of 23,433 units or 39.3 per cent. This is an all time high for this season, the executive said, and likewise is the best quarter of the year just ending, substantially exceeding the volume registered during the spring season.

Total Buick sales in the domestic market during 1939 were placed at 224,611, against 169,589 in 1938, representing a gain of 55,022 units or 32.4 per cent. This manufacturer enters the new year with unfilled retail orders on hand approximately double those of a year ago.

"The year has been marked by a well sustained retail market, substantially above 1938 and showing a marked increase in strength during the final quarter," Mr. Hufstader said. "General improvement in business, which became apparent late in the summer and accelerated during the fall months, was augmented by the introduction of new automobile models which found ready buyers and increased demand.

"There likewise was a corresponding increase in used car turnover with dealers maintaining a strong position in this respect.

"The year's Buick volume was processed by 2830 dealers averaging 79 cars per dealer. This is believed to be the highest per dealer rate in the industry and likewise is he best dealer average of record in

Mr. Hufstader said that Buick enters the new year with an organization wide campaign designed to minimize seasonal influence on sales and maintain both sales and manufacturing operations above the usual winter rate.

LONG LIVE MRS. HOMER

In the resignation of Mrs. Roger W. Homer, the Arlington Visiting Nursing Association loses a tireless servant, but who can blame Mrs. Homer for wanting to hand the reins to someone else after a quarter of a century as president of the organization. Twenty-five years on any job is a long time, but when it is work purely for the love of service, entirely without remuneration except in the satisfaction of a job superbly done, then it is deserving of the highest reward that is in the power of the organization and the town to bestow.

The gifts she has received and the dinner in her honor must be sources of considerable satisfaction to Mrs. Homer, but she may take much deeper and lasting satisfaction from the thought of the comfort and health she and her organization have brought to countless families throughout this town. Long live Mrs. Homer and the A. V. N. A.

THE PRICE OF LIBERTY

A short time ago Joseph Stalin, dictator of Communist Russia, was reelected to his seat on the Moscow municipal Soviet. His majority was exactly 100 per cent—every vote was cast for him. According to the press dispatch telling of this, it was obvious that the most strenuous methods were used by officials to get out the largest possible vote.

Those who have watched the technique of dictatorship can judge what those methods were—you support the man in the saddle "or else." And this little event, while it didn't make the headlines, is a biting commentary on what happens when the people surrender their rights and liberties to iron-clad political rule. No one attempts to win over the opposition by argument, as in a democratic nation—after all, machine guns, exile and brutal persecution are temporarily more effective instruments for keeping in power. The man who raises his voice in dissent gets short shrift indeed.

Here in America we pride ourselves on the fact that we may still speak our minds—that no man is master of our destinies—that the forces of dictatorship have been kept firmly in leash. But pride in this is not enough. It cannot too often be repeated that the price of liberty is eternal vigilance at home. We can unconsciously surrender rights until one day we awake to realize, too late, that liberty is gone.

America watches events abroad with wonder and horror. Let America also learn from them.

PIANOS AND HORSES

Many of us are like a careless farmer who takes great pride in his horses and thinks he uses every precaution to keep them strong and healthy. Yet he beds them down every night in a deadly firetrap—a barn filled with unnecessary

Are you like that farmer? Is your home or your business an inexcusable firetrap, endangering lives and possessions? Dusting the piano when the attic is a refuse-cluttered powder keg is a poor way to preserve the piano. Putting valuable papers under lock and key may not insure their safety nearly as effectively as cleaning out the store room back of your shop. Pianos and "valuable" papers can be replaced, but you have only one life, and so have the other members of your family.

Fire losses in the United States during the first ten months of 1939 totaled $258,291,480. Between twenty and thirty million dollars worth of property went up in flames each month—upwards of a million dollars a day. Fire is an insidious destroyer. Its ravaging attacks are scattered far and wide. Its toll in lives and dollars escapes the comprehension of most of us. We hear the fire engines occasionally and may see a little smoke "uptown" somewhere. But beyond that, fire seems to us a remote evil, until it strikes then it spells quick and terrifying destruction.

Don't wait until too late. Clean out that attic—before you dust the piano. Remember the farmer and his horse!

February 1 will be a big day for many an elderly American. For on that day the United States Treasury will make its first old age retirement payments, under the terms of the social security act. To be eligible for the benefits you must be 65 (by January 1), must have worked in six different calendar quarters since the end of 1936, and must have earned $50 or more during each of them. Persons of 65 who can't qualify may work on until they have gained sufficient wage credits. And pensioners may continue to work after qualifying providing they don't earn over $15 a month. Maximum benefit at this time is $82.40—for a worker with a wife over 65 and one or more dependent children.

So government "social security" is now a going endeavor. But that doesn't mean the problem has been settled. The present system, in the view of most economists, is unwieldly and may prove unworkable. Inasmuch as the sums paid in by the workers of the country must be invested in government bonds, and the money goes into the Treasury where it can be spent for any purpose Congress desires, there is no absolute guarantee that the future benefits will be paid as contracted. Under any circumstances, unless the law is changed, the program will increase the Federal debt by tens of billions. Many officials of both parties are convinced that the system must be revised.

On top of that, the present law makes no provision for the millions of farm and domestic workers, or for people who own their own little businesses and make smaller incomes than many salaried workers. Persons in these categories are exerting pressure on Congress to extend the program to cover them.

WOODCUTS

The Christian Science Monitor points out that 1940 marks the 500th anniversary of the invention of printing from movable type, a development that has revolutionized mode of life for the entire human race. This year also has other dates of historic significance in connection with printing, it being the 400th anniversary of the first printing in the New World at Mexico City, the 300th of the earliest book produced in Colonial America by the Stephen Daye Press, the 250th of the first paper mill in the United States, and the 150th of Benjamin Franklin's passing.

The Graphic Arts Institute says, "It is the printed word in circulation and use that has motivated and developed mankind through the past five centuries. No other material function has affected so many activities or radiated so widely to influence humanity. . . . The world of mankind today, the complex fabric of mental reality and physical being exists by virtue of the printed word."

AN ANSWER TO MR. WILKIE

Editor, The Advocate:

I read with keen interest the article from Readers' Digest by Wendell Wilkie, head of the Commonwealth & Southern Corporation, warning Americans lest they be enslaved by their own government, which occupied your editorial column last week.

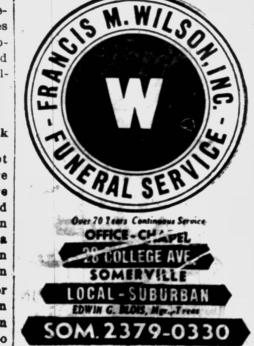

again prominently displayed, carrying its call to withstand government encroachment. I suppose it must have appeared in precisely the same words in hundreds of small newspapers. And all without cost to Mr. Wilkie or The Commonwealth & Southern Corporation.

Mr. Wilkie told his story well, giving his personal and family background in order to lend it verisimilitude and human appeal. I am wondering if an ordinary American citizen, not the head of a great corporation, may find space in which

I found that I lived in a century where children (at least, the children I knew) were tenderly nurtured, but where among the adult population the law of the jungle-dog eat dog-prevailed.

This was not the fault of the government-at least, not the national government-but of the dominance admires. It seemed that some of these business organizations had cal governments and through corrupt and subservient politicians.

> The love I bore my country's ideals and the hatred of tyranny that had existed in me from childhood led me to start a newspaper for the express purpose of combatting such conditions. I may add that for years I led a hectic life.

But as I talked with progressive newspaper men from various sections I learned that conditions in other parts of the country were not only as bad but far worse than those I was living under. One of the most vivid of my recollections is of an evening spent with a man who had been prosecuting attorney of Butte, Montana. (When I saw him he was a special writer for Collier's Weekly). I shall never forget his story or his appearance, for he was a broken man, almost unbalanced from the experiences he had been through. He had had the audacity to insist on doing his sworn duty as a prosecutor and to oppose the copper mining companies—even the great Senator Clark of Montana, himself. AN ANSWER TO MR. WILKIE

(Continued from Page 6) Francis J. Heney who had been appointed by President Theodore Roosevelt to clean up corrupt political conditions in San Francisco and who inevitably ran afoul of the Southern Pacific Railroad and other large business corporations which he found behind the corrupt politicians. He, too, had been broken. His law business also had been ruined. In addition he had been shot-right in the courtroom, as he laid the results of his investigations before a jury. And finally, he, too, had been driven from his state.

When I met him he was trying to recuperate. And he did recuperate and return to California and become a member of Congress from that state. And when he returned he doubtless found that the man Rev. Walter E. Bridge, A. B., B. D., who had shot him-a bartenderhad been made a court official, for a friend of mine later told me that that was the case.

Such things as I tell, and unhesitatingly attribute to "free business enterprise" run wild, probably never made a very deep impression on Mr. Wilkie. And this, Reed at the organ, will sing.
